

What you need to know

What is Disciple Now?

Disciple Now is a weekend for students to gather and spend intentional time studying God's word and worshipping Him. The intended outcome is to strengthen our faith in God and learn how to be a light to the world!

What do we do?

Throughout the weekend we will spend time worshipping God through song, studying the Bible, and a service project. We also have time carved out in our schedule for games and relaxation!

How do I register?

Registration forms can be found on our website @ mayfbc.org/dnow or at the church. The school should also have some. Registration will be $20. This goes toward our T-shirts and providing compensation of the speaker and band.

What do I need to bring?

We will not be staying at Host Homes this year. So there is not a crazy packing list. Basically you need to bring you Bible, something to write with, and an anticipation to have a blast! Lunch and dinner will be provided for the weekend so there is no need to pack a lunch unless of course you would prefer to do so.

How is it two days without staying the night?

We will begin on Friday night, February 4th, following the away game against Cross Plains. We are going to have a kickoff and worship session.(About 1hour) Following this service your students will go home, (you're welcome to stay if you don't want to drive home and back) and return Saturday, February 5th, a little before noon. From their we will register students who aren't already registered and eat lunch. The D-now will last until about 9pm. A finalized schedule will be released soon.

What are we teaching?

We will be in 1 John discussing the actions/evidences he gives about believers! I strongly encourage you to ask your students about what we learned weekend!

Final Remarks

Something you need to know about our ministry team. May FBC is blessed with adults who care for your students. These adults are committed to praying for your students, leading them in Bible study, and ensuring their safety at every event we do. Each adult that will be attending on behalf of May FBC has been properly checked and trained to ensure your students safety when they are on our watch.
